IFTA Reveals Plans For Meeting Here

Plans for the spring regional meetings, one of which will be held at Warburg, were revealed at the 1951 Iowa Future Teachers Delegate council held at Des Moines, Feb. 2 and 3.

Representing the Warburg chapter were Mary Alexander, sophomore and official delegate, Anne Leo, junior alternate, and Kathryn Aden, sophomore, who acted as parliamentarian at all IFTA sessions.

Arthur Meyer, president of Kapau Delta Kappa, and H. C. Engsbrecht, sponsor of the group, audited the IFTA meetings, while Dr. Martin Wiedenanders, head of the division of education and psychology here, attended the Delegate council of the Iowa State Education association also held at Hotel Fort Des Moines.

Meeting Here April 9.

Of special interest to Warburg future teachers was the Board of Directors' choice of the discussion topic "Life Adjustment" as the theme of all spring regional meetings on April 9. The Warburg chapter will play the host to other college IFTA groups of northeastern Iowa.

Kathryn Aden, who serves as secretary to the northeast region as well as to the local chapter, revealed plans that the topic "Life Adjustment" will be presented by principal speaker and panel members to be chosen from various parts of the state.

To Attend Concert.

Tentative arrangements are also being made so that visiting future teachers may attend the matinee to be presented on April 9 by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

Anne Leo will make a full report on the meeting of the Delta Kappa Council to interested IFTA members at the regular meeting, Monday, Feb. 12.

Gleiter Gets Position

In Science Research At Purdue University

Melvin Gleiter, student vice-president of the student body, has accepted a position as half-time graduate research assistant in the department of agricultural chemistry at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

This one-year term will begin Sept. 1, 1951, and will give Gleiter the opportunity to earn $1,200 per session and fees while working for a master's degree in chemistry. He is also allowed one month's vacation with pay.

"I certainly feel honored to receive this position," said Gleiter, "especially since agricultural chemistry is the field I am most interested in."

Majoring in chemistry at Warburg, Mel is also president of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honor society, and member of the Phi Kappa Phi journalistic fraternity, and is business manager of the Fortresses, college annual. Last year he edited the Fortresses and also wrote a sports column for the TITUMET.

Taking pre-induction physical examination in Des Moines next Thursday, Feb. 15, will be seven Warburg men, six of whom were referred here from local boards.

These students are Richard Cap, junior from Miles; Robert Herder, senior, University of Minnesota; Art Meyer, senior, Castile; Dick Zimmerman, senior, Compton, Ill.; Bill Gaudin, senior, Waverly; Dean Gahre, junior, Ontario, Cal.; and Lyle Kramer, sophomore, from Strawberry Point. Robert Farmer, junior from Rutland, Ill., will also go with the group if his records are transferred here Feb. 15.

Merrill Felker, junior, Robbinsdale, Minn., took his physical examination Friday, Feb. 9, and Dean Anderson, sophomore, from Prairie du Sac, Wis., will go to Madison to take his exam Monday, Feb. 12.

New Organization To Award Scholarships

New project for scholarships has recently been established in the form of the Knight club, as announced lately by H. C. Engsbrecht, public relations director here and publicity manager for the club.

Knight club consists of members who have paid at least the minimum $5 membership fee. This money will be used in building up a scholarship fund for student aid. Particular emphasis is being placed on the surrounding areas, with alumni and friends alike being urged to support this financial drive.

To Help Athlete.

Primary purpose of the Knight club is to promote the athletic program at Warburg and to build a scholarship fund for deserving athletes. As the club expands possibility of aid to talented students in other activities will be considered.

According to Mr. Engsbrecht, the club aims to develop as many friends as possible and increase the funds Warburg is following.

Center President.

President of the Knight club is J. J. Gaudin, senior, Waverly, and secretary is Paul Koch, also of Waverly.

In another movement for aid to talented students, the Brotherhood recently decided to give a $150 scholarship to a qualified student. The student will be designated as the August Engelbrecht memorial scholarship, in honor of late brother director, and the recipient will be determined by college authorities.

Warburg will have an Air Force reserve officers' training corps unit if students and faculty here have anything to say about it. An unexpected poll taken at convocation last Tuesday showed an overwhelming majority of the Warburg family favoring the establishment of such a program on this campus.

Immediate reason for the poll was an announcement by Air Force headquarters proposing the creation of 62 new ROTC units on liberal arts college campuses throughout the nation. The Washington bulletin recommended that college authorities poll students and faculty before making final application.

Rush Inevitable.

Since application papers have to be sent in by Feb. 16, it was general policy to announce the poll in advance, according to Dr. C. H. Becker, president. The executive committee of the Board of Regents must pass on the results of the poll before final application can be made.

Colleges have a choice between either a permanent ROTC set-up, or the establishment of such a unit for the duration of the present emergency only. The latter plan was endorsed overwhelmingly by Warburgers, even though a permanent unit also received a sizeable majority.

77 Per Cent Vote.

Final participation, according to the poll, included 77 per cent of the student body and 55 per cent of the faculty. Voting for the permanent unit yesterday, 61 per cent of the students and 74 per cent of the faculty declared themselves in favor. Disapproval was voiced by 20 per cent of both groups; 10 per cent of the students and 6 per cent of the faculty were indifferent.

Temporary plan was endorsed almost unanimously by the faculty, 94 per cent voting in favor.

Dr. Hiltner Honored

Bonderud To Edit Inter-Lutheran Mag For 100,000 Youth

Dr. John Hiltner, professor of philosophy and Latin here, was elected chairman of the Parish church of the American Lutheran church Friday, Feb. 2, at a meeting of the board in Dubuque.

Dr. Hiltner succeeds the Rev. Gerald Peterson, who has served a year term of office. His duties include considerable work, travel and a residence at the Sunday school industries during the summer.

Phebes Present Skit At Prayer Service

Phebes, campus future workers' organization, and Future Teachers played a part in the World Day of Prayer services at Warburg at the Episcopal church in Waverly.

The part in this service, sponsored by the Federation of Church Women, consisted of a short skit, The Christian Four Point Program. Cast in the skit were Anna Muench, president of Phebes, JoAnn Keister, Marilyn Herms, Martha Peterson, and Arne Arns and Eleanor Collitz. Miss Margaret Wolff of the English department directed the skit, assisted by Ernest Maulwurf, junior.

Bruemmer, senior, provided an organ accompaniment.

March Of Dimes Sends $80.74 Total

Warburg's March of Dimes collection for polio, totaling $80.74, has been sent to Tam Cummings at Cedar Rapids, according to Walter Jackson, college nurse and chairman of the collection.

The money was collected at two convocations of the school. "It should be understood clearly," stated Mrs. Jackson, "that the money collected for the campaign will not remain in Cedar Rapids but be returned to Bremer county, where it will be put on record for the March of Dimes chapter of this county."

whereas four per cent were either opposed or indifferent. Student vote was not quite so heavily favorable, with 70 per cent voting "yes," but the majority nevertheless indicated strong endorsement of the plan. Opposed to this plan were 8 per cent of the students, while 13 per cent remained indifferent.

Students Lack Info.

One explanation or the rather large "indifferent" vote among students may be attributed to lack of information. Conversations overheard on campus last week indicate that many students are not quite aware of the effect of the proposed ROTC unit upon students' standing with the draft.

As soon as additional information about the exact nature of the program is received, the college administration will make it public. According to Dr. Becker, the best guess today is that the program will be patterned rather closely after similar Army ROTC plans in operation on other campuses.

ROTC Men Draft-Exempt.

Students who are enrolled in ROTC are generally not drafted. They are free to register for military service, but have to wait to take, but must participate in regular training periods for the program throughout the week.

Upperclassmen who have finished the ROTC program are granted second lieutenant status in the reserves of the branch of service which trained them.

Dr. Hiltner Honored Bonderud To Edit Inter-Lutheran Mag For 100,000 Youth

Former TRUMPET editor and last year's vice-president of the student body, Omar Bonderud, was appointed last week as editor of a new inter-Lutheran youth magazine by the convocation of Lutheran youth leaders of three synods.

Church groups participating in the common venture are the American Lutheran church, the Evangelical Lutheran church and the United Methodist church. The magazine is scheduled to appear for the first time in January, 1952.

Edits Luther League Leader.

Bonderud, a 1950 graduate of Warburg, is at present editor of the ALC quarterly youth magazine, the Luther League Leader, with editorial offices in Columbus, Ohio. He is also a member of the ministry, in preparation for the ministry.

His campaign promotional campaign will be launched this spring, according to Bonderud, in order to introduce the young people of the three synods to the new publication. A special promotional issue may be published for that purpose.

Joint Topic Guide Planned.

Also planned at the Philadelphia meeting was a joint topic guide for the three church groups. Editor for this project has not yet been named.

Each of the three publications will unite the efforts of more than one hundred thousand Lutheran young people in one project.

Fleischer To Talk

George Fleischer, personnel secretary of the ALC Lutheran church, will speak at the March of Dimes Phebes, Monday, Feb. 19, as released by Anna Muench, president, Dr. Hiltner, pastor, and the Phebes speaker at chapel that evening and will be available for individual conferences any time Monday.

The Answer To What?

Religious Emphasis days are past. We hope they are not forgotten. We pray they may be fulfilled at least a small part of their purpose. In a world as critically in need of spiritual strength as ours, we cannot but realize the importance of Pastor Schmidt's message.

"Christ is the Answer."

Nothing more than that, proclaimed through three dedicated days by a handsome young man with a winning personality to an audience of at least nominal Christians. Will these words be remembered in convocation and during chapel, having any lasting effect?

Some may argue that Pastor Schmidt's manner of speaking was too nearly evangelistic to suit the Lutheran temperament. Some may say that a little emotion is just exactly what the Lutheran church needs. We have all heard both arguments. Neither of them really comes to the point. The manner of expression is not ultimately important.

It is not the "how," but the "what" that matters. Not the abundance of oratorical flourishes, or the lack of strictly logical philosophy as such. Not even the eminent personal warmth of the speaker really strikes the keynote. If these outward characteristics are all we remember from Spiritual Emphasis days, those days have been wasted.

This editorial column is not the place for sermons. It shall not attempt to. But it is the place for occasional serious thinking—such as all of us ought to do about that simple, unassuming, world-shaking message, "Christ is the Answer."

The answer to what? Perhaps primarily to fear—your fear, our fear. The answer to the crimson question-mark that throws its shadow over the people of the earth. The answer to the yearning for rest. The answer to the hope that will not come. The answer to the mystic's love.

To a world intent on denying itself, the simplicity of the answer must come with a shock. We search for complicated formulas to save ourselves. We devote years of impassioned oratory to the search for self-redemption. In our idiotic near-sightedness—the reduction ad absurdum of our way of life—we fight a war for peace.

In the thought of it might be funny, if it weren't so blood-curdling. Perhaps some day we shall recognize how horribly simple the solution is.

"Christ is the Answer."

Integrity In Politics?

In these troubled times there is a question that comes to my mind repeatedly. I don't know the answer, and maybe you, too, have thought about it. It is this: How can we deal with other nations be strictly honest and in harmony with our democratic principles and our Christian ideals? Or should we descend to the level of the communists and become opportunists, seizing every chance that comes our way, regardless of what the results of our action might be?

Maybe many feel that this is no time to stoke our future upon impractical high ideals. The times are too dangerous for fair dealing. We must bend—should out his own game, even if we have to use his methods. That might mean that we've had to be cold and hard and even deceitful, if necessary.

Events may show such a stand to be the easiest way. Yet have we ever really tried the other alternative? To do so we must find what is required in order that our nation might remain true to its high heritage. Strong leaders are needed, clear-headed and conscious of their high responsibility. To other men, ruthless actions may seem to solve present difficulties. But these men will realize that the human suffering and destroyed faith which result can add up to nothing but failure.

Honest and idealistic leaders will set the nation's feet upon the right path. Blunders will be made aplenty, but if our attitude is consistent with our ideals, and if our ideals are true, it is impossible that we should fail. Square dealing doesn't mean stupidity or glibness, however. It means following the dictates of the great conscience of the mind and Christian people.

You might now ask what this somewhat vague little argument means. Perhaps it is as impractical as the ancient maxim: "Be true to your word." Let me mention that our ideals have been betrayed here not cynicism and lack of faith are characteristic of many in authority. This must go. As free citizens we demand that the men acting in that way be wholeheartedly devoted to the cause which we espouse and that all of their deeds be characterized by integrity.

Howdy folks; pull off your shoes, let your hair down, and don't mind the spell. I've been here now since we've had a chat. No, Old Winks didn't go. They fear that I might stay and get a degree, so I took it. With men who know the service best—it's civilian life. So I'm here to chat. I said goodbye and all, but that was before I knew that I could stay. And women aren't the only ones who may change their minds.

Subscriber of TRUMPET,
Dear Sir,

I would like to answer a recent piece of libel you mailed to me. Rather than sue you for libel, I realize you to set you straight. I realize you are a draft dodger and that you are living government, that you eat at Dillavou's because you do not wish to support the school cafeteria and that you live in North Hall because you couldn't get into Grossmann or Nelson's, but I refuse to let you slander me by saying I robbed you of your only means of getting a date. Of course a celibate couldn't understand poetry, and besides anybody who would be dirty enough not to pay his dues to TRUMPET, and then tries to get inches in someone else's column and tries to bribe him, is buying coffee for him. . . well! But I do like your column and you do smoke the right brand of cigarettes. I'm afraid I'll have to settle out of court, anyway; I'm still broke.

Schmidt Strikes At Heart Of Problem By Insisting On Personal Evangelism

By Don Groskreutz

Spiritual Emphasis days, Feb. 6-8, are past, but the message which the speaker, the Rev. W. P. Schmidt of Warren, Ohio, left with students may in many instances result in a lifetime of religious emphasis.

That was the theme of message Mr. Schmidt had as he left with students a theme of thought which emphasized especially personal religion, the kind that stresses evangelism and mission activity on a personal basis.

Shews Conviction.

Speaking on the theme, "Christ is the Answer," Mr. Schmidt said that he had been here by virtue of the strength of conviction with which he delivered his addresses. His purpose, he said, was to help members of the Wartburg family to align themselves, by means of a very personal relationship, with God in a world that is shaken by the powers of hell.

He delivered three convocation addresses and two chapel talks and then culminated his work in a summarizing session of communion services held Thursday evening at St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Christ Or Karma.

At the first convocation, on Tuesday, Mr. Schmidt, under the theme, "Share the Answer," stated clearly the situation which confronts Christians today. "It's either missions or munitions; it's either Christ on Calvary or you in Korea."

"You have no right to hear the Gospel twice until everyone has heard it," he said. "I am a speaker as he pleaded for a revitalization of personal religion."

Not Blood, But Spirit.

"The purpose of Spiritual Emphasis week," he said, "is to align ourselves with God. We are not with godless nations whom we cannot trust. You aren't in the world to spill your blood, but to spill your spirit."

That evening, in a chapel sermonette, Mr. Schmidt spoke on "Bring the Answer." "The preacher," said the speaker, "can proclaim the Gospel, but there are men and women waiting to have someone come to them personally so that they may go singing and shouting rather than shouting into hell."

Are We Lighted Candles?

Next day, in convocation, the speaker, under the theme, "Reclaim the Answer," asked the piercing question, "What are we, candles or lighted candles? Are we just praying Lutheran, tried and tried at the foot of the cross?" Just to proclaim the "Trine God," he explained, is not enough. "Don't we realize that we have been saved to serve? Service means that we repeat the answer again and again," he stated emphatically.

The foolishness of preaching and weakness of witness is what Christ has chosen to be effective in the salvation process," concluded Mr. Schmidt.

Compares Religion, Architecture. "Support the Answer" was the theme of the third convocation, Wednesday evening. Drawing an analogy between architecture and religion, Mr. Schmidt called for a re-examination of the purposes of each student in college. "Are we explorers or lifters in God's church?"

"Why should the Lord let you live for 73 years, if you aren't producing fruit?" asked Mr. Schmidt in his third convocation appearance last Thursday. The theme for this address was "Live the Answer."

God Needs Youth. "God needs young men and women," he said, "prostate when they are young with the idea of serving God when they become older. 'The Lord is seeking the aggressive energy of youth,' challenged Mr. Schmidt.

"Don't you see," demanded the young pastor, "that, though the forces of evil converge upon us, we can shake and disrupt the powers of hell? Go on in God's name and live the Answer. Seek, say, find ways on campus and off campus to live that Answer. You may have another chance before God will cut you down because you are not bearing fruit."

Summarizes Thursday.

Mr. Schmidt's family communion service, with his sermon entitled "Love the Answer," Mr. Schmidt beautifully summarized his past addresses. Nearly all of the Wartburg students, faculty and staff members and their families attended. Mr. Schmidt said that to love Christ is not merely to have a feeling of affection for Him.

"It is the type of love that wants desperately to obey Christ. It is the type of love that brings the Answer, repeat the Answer, support the Answer. It wants to LIVE the Answer!"

From The Wolff Pack

EVERY AGE has its own wording—all that thought is current; namely, "It is well to cover the eyes of the children from objects of discretion." "Foul Phil!"

ANNEX I is wondering about the identity of the representatives of the Wartburg Delta Bureau. The TRUMPET's support department who called them last week-end. "Clever Clyde?"

NO, DR. HULME, Rev. Schmidt doesn't look like Tyrone Power—but hell do!—"Mystic Myrna"

LATEST METHOD used by the TRUMPET to improve the quality of its columns is the use of threats. If the quality of the "Wolff Pack" isn't up to par this week, another edition of "DISC DOPE" is to appear.

NOW THAT a male (mail) embargo has come upon us, we hope the fair sex of Wartburg will be tolerant toward occasional stuffed collar tip from one cause or another.—"Whacky Wayne?"

Axmen Chop Peacocks At Home, 79-62

By Rennie Schumacher
Wartburg continued to improve its stature in the Iowa Conference by whaling a feeble Upper Iowa team at Fayette last night, 79 to 62. Bostrack, Miller, Olson and Campbell all scored in double figures as Wartburg overwhelmed the pathetic Peacocks.

Bostrack and Campbell hit with phenomenal accuracy in the first half to carry the Knight scoring lead. Wartburg retired to the locker room with a 39-35 edge.

UJU Recovers.
Upper Iowa came roaring back in the opening minutes of the second chapter. With Bell, Scully, and Sir pitching in baskets, the men from Fayette grabbed the lead at 51-47. However, Olson and Miller connected with adding machine rapidity and the Axmen were soon back in command.

Wartburg's defense toughened up after U. I. U. hit the 88-point mark. Upper Iowa suffered a scoring famine for almost five minutes, while the sizzling Knights piled up a huge margin.

Hit 30 Per Cent.
From the floor, Wartburg hit better than 30 per cent, and converted 15 out of 22 from the gratis stripe. On defense Wartburg played an alert game, busting up plays and hawking the ball. Last Saturday night Simpson invaded Knights gymnasium and left before a superior Knight aggression, 72 to 60. Bostrack led the Wartburg attack, but the evening's top individual point getter was Cleven of Simpson with 21.

Wrestlers Trounce Macalaster, 28-8, Powerful SDS On Road Slate Tonight

By Brad Moberg
Wartburg wrestlers trounced Macalaster 28-8 yesterday afternoon at St. Paul, Minn., as they knocked down the first opposition on the two-week road slate. To night the Knights will meet the powerful South Dakota State Jack rabbits on their home mat at Brookings. Last year the Knights squeezed by the Rabbits, 14-12.

Fred Downing drew first blood with a pin over Marshall in 4 minutes and 25 seconds. Fred is presently leading the team scoring with a 25 point record. In last year's match against the Minnesotans Downing also scored as he downed Bill McMillan in 3:55.

Clough Notches Win.
Newcomer to the Wartburg team, 130-pound Wayne Clough, threw Bob Sherwood in 3:35 as he chalked up his second win in two starts. This is the second time Sherwood has fallen to a Wartburg man, having been pinned by Red Wilhelm last season.

Everett Blobaum succeeded in overcoming the Wilhelm brothers in startling fashion to earn his birth on the traveling squad but lost to Macalaster's Karbel as he was pinned in 4:32. Ev is a promising and powerful rookie but as yet lacks the experience.

Handler of Macalaster was unable to make weight so he was forced to forfeit to Keith Beaver, the Wartburg 147-pound entry.

Orks Drops Occasion.
Bob Dirks, wrestling at 157-pounds, lost a lopsided decision to Dewayne Roberts. Roberts was edged out by a 4-2 decision last year when he wrestled Wartburg champion, Howie Wolfgram.

Fastest rack-up of the evening was scored by "Abe" Bradfield as he dropped Hansen in 1 minute and 33 seconds. The bristly-haired former Waterloo wrestler is becoming one of the Nelsenmen's best entries for a championship in the Iowa conference tourney. He dropped two opponents in a total of 3 minutes and 30 seconds, for almost a record.

Oris Zwaniger in his daring and reckless manner again came through with a close decision as he edged out Peterson 9-7.

President Becker To Have New Home

President C. H. Becker will soon have a new home, according to news received this week from Dr. William L. Young, executive secretary of the Board of Christian Higher Education of the American Lutheran church.

Dr. Young announced that contracts for the proposed structure had been signed with the Carver Lumber company of Waverly. Plans call for a colonial type two-story brick structure with attached garage.

Floor Plan Given.

On the first floor of the new home will be a large L-shaped combination dining room and living room, Dr. Becker's study, a kitchen and a den with picture window. Second floor will contain four large bedrooms.

Exact location of the new presidential residence has not yet been fixed, but two sites are under consideration at present. First of these would be on the corner of 8th street and 4th avenue N. W., the place from which Prof. Aarvick's home was moved two years ago. This site is in the same block with Dr. Becker's present home.

Location Considered.

Second location being considered is the corner of 1st avenue and 9th street N. W., directly south of Dr. Hiltner's home and west of the south campus lawn.

Construction, which will begin as soon as weather conditions permit, was made largely possible by the $32,000 Europa estate, part of which went to the college and part to the seminary at Dubuque.

Star In Musical

Grossmann Lounge Painted Last Week

Newly refinished lounge of Grossmann hall is again open to college students. The lounge was recently redecorated by the men of the dormitory, who voluntarily supplied the labor, according to Elroy Dietrich, student in charge of the project.

Walls on both the north and south side were finished in azure blue while the west wall was painted yellow. The east wall had previously been painted blue.

Several murals, to be designed and painted on the wall by Robert Koehler, sophomore, are to be added in the future.

'Family Portrait' Cast To Be Announced Soon

Casting for "Family Portrait," Leuten play, will be completed sometime next week, according to Raymond Wilderman, dramatics adviser.

Tentative cast of 25 is expected to be named for the production, which features the part of Mary in the life story of Christ's family. Further notice of exact place and time for tryouts will be posted.

Engelbrecht Relates Campaign Success Over Station WHO

H. C. Engelbrecht, public relations director, discussed the successful Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) over station WHO, Des Moines, on Herb Plambeck's "Cornbelt Farm Hour," Saturday noon, Feb. 3.

Bremer county was proclaimed top CROP county in the state, having raised $6,228.86 in cash and 86,650 pounds of shelled corn, valued conservatively at $1,856.40. The Rev. Walter Tillmans of the modern languages department, was chairman of this drive for his second year. A number of Wartburg students helped with the drive, and Bob Timmen, sophomore, served as one of the township chairman.

"We attribute the success of this drive to the heartedness of the people of Bremer county and the fact that we have many churches and consider ourselves a rural community," stated Engelbrecht. "The newspapers in the county also cooperated with us."
